Organizing Welfare Wardens Now

Up To Women To Stabilize Morale In Their Districts And Compile Data

Welfare wardens who will function in all of the air raid warden districts are expected to be appointed within the next few days, working under the chairmanship of Mrs. Hazel Coney, and general direction of Wm. Maloney, head of the health and welfare committee for the Civilian Defense Council.

Women who have already assumed welfare duties in their respective districts are Mrs. Leila Embree, district 24; Mrs. Fred Griebel, district 34; and Mrs. W. D. Richards, district 35. Mrs. Jean Kearney will assist as welfare secretary.

Each welfare warden will be charged with the responsibility of knowing her district thoroughly. She will gather and file complete information relative to housing, nursing, equipment which would be available in any emergency, and other welfare data. During periods of extreme emergency she will work toward the general stabilization of morale in her district, and will cooperate with air raid wardens and Red Cross units.

Hero Loses Life Saving 16 Flyers

Injuries sustained while heroically protecting the lives of 16 U.S. Army Flyers exacted the supreme sacrifice from Patrick J. O'Harran, 34, on New Year's morning when he died at the Government hospital at Sawtelle following a long illness.

Sergeant O'Harran had served as a radio operator with the Army in Panama, China and Hawaii, and before his discharge had been stationed at Hickman field. During a test flight into the stratosphere in a plane carrying 16 Army men, he was suddenly advised by the pilot that they had gone into the stratosphere before schedule. Knowing that men in the cabin would suffer serious injury and possible death unless they resorted to immediate use of masks, Sergeant O'Harran sent word into the cabin before getting his own mask in place. As a result he suffered heart and respiratory injuries from which he never recovered.

Following his release from the Sawtelle Hospital last June Sergeant and Mrs. O'Harran and their four-year old daughter Betty Jean came to Sierra Madre and since then had lived quietly here. On December 7 he suffered a severe heart attack and was taken back to the hospital. Final rites and interment were at Abolene, Kan. Mrs. O'Harran and daughter will make their home in Kansas City with her parents.

Defense Gardens To Be Club Topic Monday Evening

"Home Gardens for Defense" will be the topic for discussion at the regular meeting of the Sierra Madre Garden Club Monday evening when James Stewart Blake of Pasadena, will be the guest speaker.

Sierra Madre's climate and general growing conditions are considered unusually favorable for vegetable production, and local garden clubs indicate that they will give their entire support to the plan of creating home vegetable gardens.

Meeting of the Garden Club will be held at the home of Mrs. Frank Spencer, president, at 139 West Orange Grove avenue, at 7:30 p.m. following dinner. A silver offering will be taken for the Sierra Madre War Relief Fund.

Small Boys Cited For Starting Fires In Dangerous Spot

Complaints against three local boys eight and 10 years old were filed in Juvenile court this week as the result of a fire in Sierra Madre Canyon Friday.

Brush covered slopes across from 669 Sturtevant drive were fired by the boys, one of whom was involved with setting fire to grass on a Grand View avenue lot last year, and is now a ward of the court. The others will be referred to the juvenile probation department.

City Gets Title To 720 Acres Of Mt. Wilson Watershed

Foreclosure rights in the undivided half interest of the Strain estate including Orchard Camp, formerly owned by Mrs. Harriet Martin, were acquired by the city this week from Dr. C. Max Anderson and Glade L. White who sometime ago purchased the rights through a foreclosure sale.

Price the city will pay for the property was set at $2925. Purchase will become final only when the foreclosure redemption period has elapsed. When the transaction is completed Sierra Madre will have acquired full title to the 720 acre Strain estate, which includes the valuable mountain watershed back of Sierra Madre.

Tire Ration Board Here Appointed

Named to Sierra Madre's tire rationing board Monday by Mayor W. J. Schiltz, chairman of the Civilian Defense Council, were Thomas Neale, city judge; Frank Spencer and W. J. Maloney. Tuesday evening they took the oath of office before Thomas Reynolds. Judge Neale's office at 86 West Sierra Madre Blvd. has been named official headquarters for the committee.

Details of tire rationing here await instructions from Paul Barksdale D'Orr, Sierra Madre resident who was appointed State tire ration administrator last week by Gov. Olson.

The local board will have complete jurisdiction over all tire purchases for cars which are garaged here, and no tire may be replaced without the approval of the board and the tire inspectors who will be appointed. Vehicles designated as eligible for tire replacements will be announced later. However present regulations provide that every prospective purchaser must be able to prove that the "purchase is vital to defense or to the maintenance of vital civilian services related to defense."

January quota for Los Angeles county released by the State Council of Defense this week was 3385 tires and 3252 tubes for passenger cars, motorcycles and light trucks; and 5767 tires and 4820 tubes for trucks and busses.

Instruction Given In The Handling Of Fire Bombs

Incendiary bombs are intensely hot but relatively simple to handle, declared John P. Kaye in speaking to Forest Service employees this week. A fine spray of water or covering with sand or loose dirt will prove effective said Major Kaye, who further indicated that precautions against the heat are necessary. When the bomb has been sprayed or covered it may be removed after a time. If in the forest area, space on which it fell should be thoroughly watered.

The ordinary incendiary bomb, said Major Kaye, is about two inches in diameter with a one inch core. It is 10 inches long with a four inch tail. This is the type usually dropped in residential districts while those used in forest areas are somewhat smaller.

Major Kaye is giving instructions to foresters on methods of combating incendiaryism in the mountains. He recently attended the Chemical Warfare School for Civilian Defense held at the Police Training School in Los Angeles.

Jr. Women Organize First Aid Class; Buy Defense Bond

The Junior Woman's club is making plans to aid in defense work. A class in first aid will be opened during the early part of February for members. The club rooms will be used for class meetings.

The club will buy a defense bond according to the decision made at the business meeting last Thursday. A second bond will be purchased in the spring by the contribution of defense stamps. Louise Stamer will be in charge of the collection of the defense stamps.

The dental work for children will be carried on as the most important project of the philanthropy committee under the supervision of Althea Butler, chairman.

In the latest award to the blanket club, blankets will be distributed to Mrs. Edith Newman and Ruth Cullum.

DEFENSE COUNCIL AND AIR RAID WARDEN WARN PUBLIC TO OBSERVE SAFETY MEASURES

THE following statements addressed to the people of Sierra Madre were issued yesterday by the Council of Civilian Defense and the Air Raid Warden Service:

By MAYOR W. J. SCHILTZ
Chairman, Sierra Madre Council of Defense

In the crisis in which we find ourselves it is not only desirable but vitally necessary that every resident be fully and regularly informed of the measures designed for his personal safety and that of our community.

To meet constantly growing situations that must be met, the Defense Council will issue bulletins, regulations and suggestions to protect our citizens. As occasion requires the City Council will have to adopt ordinances that must be observed by all for the safety of one and all of us.

Everyone should read and be familiar with these ordinances and with the local Defense Council regulations. We believe every loyal citizen will want to know and abide by these measures for the common good.

Neither the Defense Council nor your City Council has any means of reaching the citizens except through our newspapers.

Our local newspaper gives an account of the activities each week and I heartily recommend that each secure a copy regularly and acquaint himself with what is going on in our city.

By BRUCE MCGILL
Chief of Air Wardens

The Air Raid Warden Service now being organized in Sierra Madre is preparing rules and regulations as directed by the National Defense Council. They will be of great importance to the safety and well being of our community. From time to time it will be necessary to augment the initial regulations as the necessity requires.

Until President Roosevelt's program is well under way it is of utmost importance that we take every possible means to protect ourselves against aggression from the air.

The Air Warden Service must keep the citizens of Sierra Madre informed of its precautions and operations through the Sierra Madre News—its only means of contact with the public. We believe, therefore, that for their own and the community welfare, every home should have and read the Sierra Madre News carefully every week. Be prepared at home.

DEFENSE COUNCIL AND RED CROSS WILL WORK TOGETHER, OFFICIALS ANNOUNCE

To clarify the general confusion regarding the cooperative policy of the Civilian Defense Council and the American Red Cross, A. L. Schafer, manager of the Red Cross area, this week issued instructions to all chapters under his jurisdiction.

Relationship of the two organizations in emergency relief work has been established on a national basis and Red Cross services required in civilian defense activities will be made available by chapters who have been advised to cooperate to the fullest extent with the Defense Council. During periods of emergency the Red Cross will operate subject to the authority of the Defense Council or appropriate governmental officials. However at all times the Red Cross will maintain administrative and financial control of its immediate operations.

Functioning in full cooperation with all public and private agencies, specific Red Cross responsibilities will include disaster relief dealing with supplying food, shelter, clothing and other necessities in the event of disaster, whether occasioned by belligerent action or other cause; first aid and home nursing training; nurses aid training and service.

During periods when disaster relief is necessary the Red Cross will assist local Defense Councils in rescue work and emergency medical care. Volunteer service units shall be made available to the Defense Council, but will at all times maintain their Red Cross unit organization.

Mrs. H. C. Lieben has been appointed chairman of all Red Cross Volunteer units which will be organized here, and Miss Marjorie Adams has been named chairman of nurses aides.

Noted Author And Lecturer To Speak At Woman's Club

Speaking on "Defense and the Economic Aspects in Shaping America's Destiny," Dr. Robert B. Pettingill, Associate Professor of Economics at U.S.C., will lecture at the Sierra Madre Woman's Club meeting at 11 a.m. Wednesday, January 14. Dr. Pettingill is a noted lecturer and also the author of technical articles in "The American Economic Review," "The New York Times Analyst," "World Affairs Interpreter," and many other noted publications.

Luncheon reservations may be made by phoning 4623. Book reviews will be given at 1:45 p.m.

Councilman Weds Bay City Woman In Divorce City

A friendship which began in the East two years ago, resulted in the marriage on December 29, of Miss Tillie Asch and Councilman John Froehlich, in a ceremony performed in Reno, Nev. Mrs. Froehlich, a native of San Francisco, is a member of the Golden Gate Chapter No. 1, O.E.S.

John ("Pop") Froehlich has been a resident of Sierra Madre for 15 years, and has served as a City Councilman for eight years. He is a trustee and prominent member of the Monrovia Elks Lodge.

Mr. and Mrs. Froehlich are making their home for the present with his daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Fred A. Krinke of 145 West Carter.

False Crime Reports To Draw Fines

Sierra Madreans who in the future turn in false crime reports to the police department will be subject to a $300 fine or a 90-day jail sentence, as the city council has advised Walter Dunn, city attorney, to draw up an ordinance designed to prohibit such reports.

Action was taken at the request of Gordon McMillan, police chief, who in a letter to the council stated: "We have had several crimes reported, which investigation indicated were false and unfounded and wilfully made. Had such an ordinance been in effect complaints would have been signed against the persons making these reports."

"Obviously all reports received must be assumed to be bona fide unless investigation indicates otherwise. Frequently considerable time and effort in investigation is expended only to find that it has been wasted. A recent case took several days of investigation by the undersigned and two investigators from the Sheriff's office."

McMillan asked that the city adopt an ordinance similar to that of Los Angeles which provides that, "No person shall wilfully make to the police department any false, misleading or unfounded report for the purpose of interfering with the operation of the police department or with the intention of misleading any police officer."

Building Up $150,167 Over Last Year

Sixty-Nine New Homes Erected—Three Dwelling Permits Issued In 1942

Building in Sierra Madre jumped to $334,635 for 1941 showing an increase of $150,167 over 1940 when the total figures for the year were $184,468, according to the annual report of Wm. Lees, city building inspector. Sixty-nine new homes were built here during 1941, and extensive remodeling and repairs made to established dwellings.

While building slowed down during December, it was still far in advance of the same month last year. Permits totaling $11,765 were issued for new home and repairs, compared with $4400 for the same period of 1940.

New homes now under construction are being built by F. L. Cutler at 643 West Alegria avenue; by R. D. Dodge who is erecting a large seven room frame house at 68 Lowell avenue, and by Harold Spears who has taken out permits for two homes, first of which will be at 240 North Sunnyside avenue.

Burglars Ransack Michillinda Home

Breaking into the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred J. Barkman, 40 S. Michillinda, Monday evening, thieves thoroughly ransacked the house, took a wrist watch, other jewelry, several items of men's apparel, and escaped undetected. The robbery occurred sometime between 4 and 6:35 p.m., while the Barkmans were away from home. Finger prints and other clues were obtained by the police, who are making a thorough investigation. It was the first burglary reported here in many months, but police warn householders to keep their doors and windows locked.

What You Can Do

Have you bought your bond for victory?

This has ceased to be the "other fellow's" war, ceased to be just the "other fellow's" duty to make the sacrifices. Today the war is America's battle, and the cause of victory is something to which all Americans pledge allegiance—not only with words but deeds. On the home front, government defense bonds enable all of us to strike a blow for freedom and, in a very practical way, safeguard the country's future and our own. The spirit that generously gives, is the spirit that's going to win!

Navy Authorized To Enlist Drafted Men

Ex-inducted men released from the Selective Service and now in the Army reserve may be enlisted in the Navy immediately upon application. The Los Angeles Recruiting Station will notify the Commanding General upon completion of each enlistment. No prior notice is required by the applicant, according to Navy officials.

Recruiting officers have been authorized to enlist any man in the Navy or Naval reserve up to any time before he actually is inducted into the Army. In the past any man who had received his induction papers awaiting call for the Army could not apply for enlistment in the Navy. With this new order it will be possible to enlist boys on call for the Army without delay as Pasadena now has an enlarged recruiting force including a Chief Pharmacist's Mate. The boys can get their physical examination and complete all their preliminary papers at the Pasadena office and do not have to go to the Los Angeles office.

Name Chairman For Paralysis Fund

Taking over the appointment of Mrs. John Clauss, P.T.A. president as chairman of the 1942 infantile paralysis drive, Mrs. Ralph Cordy of 377 North Lima street, will conduct the drive here this year. Mrs. Cordy attended the organization luncheon held at the Biltmore Hotel, Monday and announces that she will open the local campaign Monday, January 26. Because of metal conservation, stickers will be used this year to replace the regular lapel tags.

City Too Complacent In Face Of Grave Danger, Says Chief Air Raid Warden

Do Your Part

In the present national crises, our government has asked that every citizen and business establishment exercise every means of conserving paper, which is of vital importance for the defense of this nation. Newspapers, too, are expected to cooperate. Newsprint is no longer plentiful, and postal regulations requiring subscriptions to be paid in advance are being rigidly enforced. So that we may do our share the NEWS is asking for the assistance of subscribers. The address line on your paper carries the date when your subscription is due. Voluntary payment will make it unnecessary to send you a statement, thus conserving many pounds of paper. Check the expiration date of your subscription, then do your share to help the NEWS save paper for Uncle Sam's Defense!

Draft Board To Open Two Offices Here For Selectees—Older Men Come Later

Members of local draft board 191 at Monrovia, indicated yesterday that two registration offices will be opened here February 16 when men between the ages of 20 and 44 will register for military service.

While locations have not been established as yet one office will probably be located in the city hall. According to officers of the board approximately 180 men will be called upon to register here.

Complete arrangements are expected to be announced next week, following a meeting of draft board officials.

Men between 45 and 65 years who will not be eligible for active military duty, will be asked to register for other defense duties at a later time.

War Relief Funds Slow Coming In

Sierra Madre's War Relief fund climbed slowly this week, as several citizens contributed for the second time, and other friends of the Red Cross set about arranging social functions to assist in the campaign.

Contributions totaled Wednesday morning had reached $1266.82, still less than a quarter of the local quota. Several organizations have given pledges, and volunteer subscriptions continue to come in. House to house soliciting will not be undertaken unless such action is necessary to complete the quota.

The local campaign finance committee is composed of Dr. A. O. Pritchard, chairman; Mrs. Frank Spencer, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. W. S. Hull, Mrs. J. Milton Steinberger, Dr. W. B. Heagerty, Steinmader C. E. Rappaport, Sidney Jewell, J. D. McAndrew, Harry Lange, F. W. Miles, J. S. Weber, R. D. Dodge and C. W. Jones, ex-officio member.

A State Advisory Committee to bring about active cooperation and participation in the War Relief Campaign has been appointed.

Rental Shortage To Be Relieved As Races Called Off

Definite announcement this week that the 1942 Santa Anita racing season has been cancelled is expected to materially lessen the shortage of rental houses in Sierra Madre and other foothill cities. The announcement was made following a meeting between Army officials and president of the Turf Club. It is estimated that more than a hundred owners, trainers, jockeys and part-time operatives had taken quarters here. Many of the jockeys have already gone, but the absence of cars for transportation of horses will require many of the owners and trainers to remain here indefinitely.

Citizens Will Be Thrown On Own Resources In The Event Of Bombings Here

Broadening the picture of Pacific Coast vulnerability and required defense measures which must be taken here without delay Bruce McGill, chief air raid warden for Sierra Madre, appeared as guest speaker at the Kiwanis luncheon Tuesday.

Mr. McGill was one of the three Sierra Madreans who recently attended the U.S. Army's school of chemical warfare in Los Angeles. He is now organizing district air raid wardens throughout the city, and is also doing much to impress upon complacent Sierra Madreans the seriousness of present day conditions.

Speaking frankly to local Kiwanians Mr. McGill said:

"President Roosevelt in his address to the joint session of Congress on the state of the Union, gave certain production figures for 1942-43—60,000 planes in 1942; 125,000 planes in 1943; 45,000 tanks in 1942, 75,000 tanks in 1943; similar figures for guns and ships. Those production figures can and must become, at the time designated, accomplished facts."

"To achieve our objective, we must first of all change our thinking from peace and profits, to war and victory. The greatest

Foresters On War-Time Basis Here

Forest-minded citizens of Sierra Madre were assured yesterday by William V. Mendenhall, supervisor of Angeles National Forest and Forest Defense coordinator of the four national forests of Southern California, that special preparations are being taken to guard the Angeles against fire.

In order to cope with the extraordinary dangers that will confront forest areas after winter's rains have ceased, the staff of the Angeles has been placed on a wartime basis. Assistant Supervisor Melvin E. Barron has been named chief of staff, and field headquarters for swift action in emergencies has been set up at the Forest Service Arcadia equipment depot. Edward A. Grant, fire control assistant, is stationed at the Arcadia office, directing the gathering of information vital to Angeles watershed protection. All equipment is being placed in readiness to respond at once to any situation imperiling the Angeles and, as a result of the coordinated organization covering the San Bernardino, Cleveland, Los Padres and Angeles forests, additional equipment and manpower will be available on short notice.

It may be that during the next few months a call will be made for volunteer civilian forest defenders, Mendenhall said, and in that case it is hoped Sierra Madre will be well represented in the contemplated auxiliary fire fighting organization. The public's help will be needed, on an unprecedented scale.

Snow Comes Down To 3,000 Foot Level

Defense Officers See Plan In Action

To get first hand information of Defense Council divisions in action, Gordon McMillan, chief of police and head of civil protection here, Bruce McGill, chief air raid warden, and Waverly Pratt, Defense Council co-ordinator, attended a demonstration meeting held at the State Building yesterday.

The exhibition showed an emergency control center in operation under pressure and was arranged by Lt. Col. George Fisher, officer in charge of O.C.D. schools in this area.

SOCIETY

OUT A THRILLING DAY

A birthday dinner given last Thursday night by the F. D. R. Moore's of 689 West Sierra Madre blvd. for their daughter Dorothy, climaxed a thrilling day for the guest of honor who spent the day in Palm Springs and motored home via the Palms to Pines highway, arriving in time for the celebration. Guests who participated in a musical evening included Mr. and Mrs. Graeme Smith and son Bobby; Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Poundstone, Mrs. R. S. Jensen, Mrs. Anna McGuffin, and Misses Alice Larson, Bonita Beamer and Ann McGuffin.

AILEEN ROBERTS IS A NEW YEAR'S BRIDE

Announcement was made this week of the marriage of Miss Aileen Roberts, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. T. Roberts of Orange Grove avenue, to Charles Freund, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Friend of West Los Angeles, in a ceremony which took place January 1, in Yuma, Ariz. The bride and groom were attended by Mrs. Raymond Lewis of Sierra Madre, and Orville Froats of Santa Monica.

Mr. and Mrs. Friend will make their home in Beverly Hills.

SOCIAL NOTES

The R. K. Girard's home at 180 South Michellinda was the scene of a birthday dinner Tuesday night at which Mrs. Russell Behrens was guest of honor. Included in the party were Mr. and Mrs.

DRESSES GREATLY REDUCED

Side Glances and Soliloquies

by Libby Trimble

Heading the kind-hearted business man department this week is Dr. M. H. A. Peterson, the Sunday comic fiend who sneaks downtown to read the "funnies" in the privacy of a drug store, thereby saving himself the task of reading them to his children. In an interview he admitted hiding the comics at home and made a statement to the effect that, "If the kids don't see them they don't think of them." There is a saying, proven to be true, that one's chickens eventually come home to roost.

I'm hoping that the same saying won't apply to Dr. Woehler who took a post-graduate course on yearlings during a visit to Slim Roberts father's ranch last spring.

Perley Sheehan, a lover of justice and an enemy of aggression, was lying awake the other night thinking up horrible, cold-blooded, methods of killing off Japs and Nazis, when he heard the snap of a mouse-trap, followed by the frightened squeaks and rustlings of a little mouse attempting to escape. "I'm a fine hard-hearted guy," he added with a grin when telling the story, "I made me sick."

Two very young and attractive negro girls were deep in conversation in front of a Pasadena store recently, and just as two Sierra Madreans walked past they heard one girl say to the other, "Have you told your mother yet who you was married to?"

I've been wondering why no one from the Forestry Service has been invited to attend our City Defense Council meetings. Seems to me that their ideas and cooperation would be an invaluable asset in the defense of our community.

Our invigorating January air is putting a spring in our steps and roses in our cheeks. That, coupled with the Government's plea to save tires, may make of us a healthier nation. At least we will be more active. We developed the look of a metropolis Saturday when there were so many pedestrians it was difficult to pass on the sidewalk and, believe it or not...no heels were dragging. They were really stepping out.

Roads Are Closed As Defense Measure

Sections of various highways in Los Angeles and vicinity are being closed by military authorities in the interest of defense. Most of these roads bound such venerable spots as large oil refineries, reservoirs and aircraft plants. In most cases the motoring public will not be greatly inconvenienced and will follow a detour of local roads. San Gabriel Canyon, north of Azusa, is closed to the general public.

GOT ENOUGH SNOW AND COLD WEATHER

The W. B. Durham's of 684 Auburn avenue, enjoyed snow for Christmas but were not sorry to leave it behind when they were ready to return home. They arrived Friday following a 14-day visit in Denver, Col., with Mr. and Mrs. James M. Frair and daughter Carol.

Many Opportunities Offered Women To Serve In The National Defense

According to the Los Angeles County Defense Council, any woman willing to serve her country can find a place in national defense work where she can put her talents to their most efficient use.

Among organizations offering courses in various branches of civilian defense work, are the Red Cross Motor Corps, the California State Guard, the American Women's Voluntary Services, Air Raid Warning Service, Frank Wiggins Trade School, the Women's Ambulance Defense Corps of America, and Women's Ambulance and Transport Corps.

Volunteers wanting to apply for these courses should contact these organizations directly, and not the Los Angeles Defense Council.

Guild Elects New Officers For 1942

Mrs. L. M. Anderson was elected president of the St. Catherine's Guild of the Church of the Ascension, at a Guild meeting Tuesday at the home of Misses Hazel and Jean Woodward of 470 Ramona. Miss Thomasella Graham was elected vice-president; Mrs. William Lauren Rhoades, secretary, and Miss Jean Woodward, treasurer.

Arrangements were made for a patriotic benefit to be given Tuesday, January 12, in the Parish side at the tea table after the meeting.

Citizens Asked To Save Waste Paper To Aid Defense

Sierra Madreans are being asked to conserve waste paper and, when a sufficient amount has accumulated, to call some charitable organization for collection. Either the Goodwill Industries or Salvation Army is equipped to direct such waste paper expeditiously into defense channels.

More and more defense and munitions industries are needing paper products such as fibroboard and shredded newspapers for shipping war materials, as there is now an alarming shortage of paperboard due to increased use and, as it is estimated that at least three-fourths of this valuable raw material is burned as waste, it is considered vital to defense that it be conserved at this time.

They Go Up Fast In Uncle Sam's Navy

The Secretary of the Navy Frank Knox has just authorized flag officers of the U.S. Fleet to award advancements in rating as high as Chief Petty Officer, acting appointment, for especially meritorious conduct in action. The authorization would permit a newly enlisted man serving with the fleet to be awarded to the highest rating a regular enlisted man of the Navy can attain.

LUNCHEON BRINGS $54 TO RED CROSS

Mrs. Mary Goodfellow turned over $54.00 to the Red Cross last week, proceeds from a benefit luncheon and bridge given Friday at her home at 41 East Grand View avenue. Conforming with the National Defense theme were the table decoration of tiny American flags and baskets for donations. Mrs. Harry Holland won the door prize, and Mrs. George McRoberts and Mrs. William Lauren Rhoades were presented with 50-cent Defense stamps, given as bridge prizes. Mrs. Goodfellow was assisted by her daughter, Mrs. Richard Stanton, Mrs. Gilla Bullock, Mrs. C. L. Baird and Mrs. Alice MacKerras and Mrs. Nancy Perry.

BACK ON THE JOB

Ronald Pulling, who has been staying with his mother, Mrs. A. E. Pulling of 382 West Montecito avenue, recovering from a major eye operation performed last spring, has returned to work for the C.A.A. Engineering department in Santa Monica. He was transferred there from Washington, D.C., where he had been employed in the same department.

ASCENSION GUILD MEETS TOMORROW

The Woman's Guild of the Church of the Ascension will meet at 2:30 p.m., Friday, in the church parish house, and will hold an election of officers for the new year. Mrs. Mark Welsher will be tea-hostess.

IN THE ARMY NOW

Mrs. O. H. Finney and son Joyce Finney of Los Angeles were weekend guests of the Earl C. Wilcox family of 580 Wilcox road. Joyce, a brother of Mrs. Wilcox, left Monday to begin service with the U.S. Army.

Fire Walkers Will Be Seen In Film Of Fiji Islands

The winter and spring season of the Pacific Geographic Society's Globe-Trotter Series opens on Thursday evening, the 15th at Pasadena Civic Auditorium, with Herbert Knapp and his all color film "Fiji, Isle of the Firewalkers." Mr. Knapp will be remembered for his exquisite "Tahiti" which enjoyed favorable comment long after its presentation last season. His Fiji film is said to excel in color and interest the other subject. Usually typed as a "cannibal" the Fijian in reality is a man of handsome features and a well-proportioned physique.

Donut Drive Of Camp Fire Girls Opens

Local Camp Fire Girls have made plans for the annual donut drive, which is the major sustaining project of the organization. "Two donuts for every resident of Sierra Madre" is the years rallying slogan for girls who will visit homes throughout the month taking orders of Plevel donuts at 35c a dozen. Deliveries will be made on Wednesday, January 28, and Saturday, January 31. Later in the month Blue Birds will open a booth downtown and take orders for later delivery. Local girls are charged with selling approximately 1,000 dozen.

MODERN PRISCILLAS WILL MEET TODAY

The Modern Priscillas will meet at 2:30 today at the home of Mrs. Henry S. Burnham of 49 W. Orange Grove. Mrs. Florence Preston will act as co-hostess.

The.... Watch Tower

By Perley Poore Sheehan

WE came again across the words of an old Russian song—these: "Alone am I in the world, And only the sky is above me." They were like a muffled Pilgrims' Chorus from the frozen steppes, over there where the Germans are now, thank God, in retreat. But this chorus with an overtone. For a friend had sent us, as a Christmas card, a copy of the Ninety-first Psalm, so beautifully printed that we'd fastened it up against the wall at the side of our desk; not only because of that beautiful print, but also because of the words—words which now came as a sort of response to those others: "He shall cover thee with his pinions..." Enough to make anyone stop and think. "And under his wings shalt thou take refuge..." So cold in Russia. So many boys wounded and left alone—with only the sky above them!

THIS isn't an attack on anyone or anything. It's just a question. Such as we—or you—might ask. If we—or you—were one of those now "missing" on the Russian front, Russian or German or Italian, all of them pretty much alike. Greek Orthodox, Lutheran, Roman Catholic—their hearts imbued, if not their minds, with at least some ancestral echo from that same Psalm. Their hearts repeating: "He is my refuge and my fortress—my God in whom I trust. Yet their minds demanding: WHY? WHAT IS THE EXPLANATION? "His truth is a shield and a buckler..." BUT IS IT? LOOK AT ME NOW! WHERE IS THIS GOD? WHAT IS HIS TRUTH?

IT SET us to thinking about other wars. Especially the Crusades. Which were also a sort of World War, in many respects curiously like our own. Nations who'd once fought each other then united to fight one common enemy. Then as now a war of ideologies rather than a war of peoples, thus giving it the nature of a Holy War. Children and women and old folks yielding their quota of victims same as today. The same stupendous expansion of human relations—inter-Continental, transmarine. But most of all resembling this World War of our own in the way that men, women, and children, offered themselves for sacrifice—even as the Crusader of Galilee had done—so that the world might become a better place to live in. Didn't they also, on their various crosses, ask the Lord's own historic question?

THERE did, however, then come what may be called a historic answer. In the Renaissance. Which must have been due, at least in part, to the majestic schooling of those Crusades. Not so much a Renaissance, or re-Birth, as the burning of something that never had been born until this time: the birth that is, of our dominant Western World—the beginning of all that we've meant ever since when we speak of Western Civilization; in science, art, and politics, freedom of thought and religion, civil liberty; Chaucer, Shakespeare, Dante; Goethe, Kant, Voltaire; Bacon, Newton, Franklin—you could go on and on, through all the arts, through all the crafts and sciences. But as to the solution of that Mystery of Mysteries—Mystery still!

AND yet, after this Present War of Holy Crusades, shall there not also be a Renaissance? Maybe. We believe so. Not, this time, of the arts and sciences, perhaps. For men will say: "What's the use? We've seen what machines have let us in for!" But now, a Renaissance of the Human Spirit. When men will no longer go about cherishing or fearing or respecting mere petrified formulas. They'll dig the meaning from their fossil phrases, just as their predecessors, in that earlier Renaissance, abolishing superstition, searched out the meaning of the fossil rock. Maybe. We hope. We believe—almost.

RECALLING a half-remembered quotation, which we thereupon looked up. Mark 9:24: "And straightway the father of the child cried out, and said with tears, Lord, I believe; help thou mine unbelief." We did this still thinking of those boys left behind down along those thousand miles of frozen battle-line in Russia—alone and only the glittering sky above them. Maybe they—and we—do need some new Gospel of that Truth which was writ to set us free. There's an ancient Sanskrit affirmation, as of the Human Soul concerning God: "Shivo hum (shevo hoom)!" Which may be translated: "I am He!" Is this a key? Lord, the World believes; help thou its unbelief.

UNCENSORED

By LEONE BAXTER

With the war close enough to singe its eyelashes, America has learned in recent weeks to shrug less and listen more when the talk is of defense needs. It is no longer sophisticated, but merely stupid, to disregard news reports that seem to bring the fight too near for comfort and complacency.

Today, when an accredited newsman reports that German shipyards are now working 24 hours a day, building an immense Nazi navy to surpass all those of the rest of the world combined, it is important to consider the implications and America's part in meeting them. Such a program is reported by Henry J. Taylor, newsman, observer, economist; its significance is not simply to our own strategists, but to every last citizen of the country as well.

Germany, now fighting a "holding war" on the continent, is faced with the necessity of breaking through to the outside world to drain its resources, if she is to escape her own economic insufficiency, declares Taylor. Hitler's hopes are pinned on the new navy.

Well, what does that mean to the grocer, the housewife, the shipyard worker or the stenographer here? Why try even to understand the devious plans and programs of the military—our own or the enemy's?

The answer to that is the answer to many of the problems facing this nation and every family and every individual in it. Taylor lays it in our laps, and it is well to try to understand it.

"In the long war ahead, we free Americans have a tremendous task before us, and so have the British. The day must come, just as it did in the last war, when we will hit so fast, build so much and slug so hard that we will win. But it will take many years.

"Our standard of living will fall. We will not be able to recognize our present mode of life five years from today. But we will win—because we are fighting against the greatest force for evil in the history of mankind!"

These are hard words. And neither the President nor any other official who should know has asked us to disbelieve them. They only urge citizens to prove that the fiber of this country is as tough as the job to be done—the job which opened on the day of the Pearl Harbor massacre, calling for recruits of all ages, colors, societies and creeds.

In that job there is no room for softness, no time for politics, no place for self pity—but a chance for every American to prove he has the backbone to fight, the stamina to endure and above all, the will to sacrifice!

MARCH OF RIMES

By H. F. NOAKE

SERVICE STATIONS

Service stations of today fairly take one's breath away, serving rich and poor alike, a limousine or motor bike. Attendants, ready to beguile both saint and sinner, with a smile. No wonder when you meet such men instead of five you ask for ten. Things so gladly given free is simply good psychology; and checking cars from end to end is done so you'll come back, and spend. With windshield cleaned and headlights too, the old bus shines as good as new; there's nothing that they overlook, they even clean your pocketbook.

IT'S A STAGGERING JOB BUT WE CAN DO IT

Approximately 83,325,000 man-years—that's the estimated time it would take to do all the work that will be required under our new $150,000,000,000 victory program.

A figure like that brings home the immensity of the job we have before us. It's going to take more work than we've ever done before on a similar job, and more men and women working on defense production.

Big as it is, we can do it. There is no shortage of potential labor in America; we have enough men and women. But there probably will be a shortage of skilled labor, and already industry is taking steps to meet it.

For year many American companies have carried on industrial training programs, helping young men and women to learn trades. Those programs are still in operation, and from the mcoms a steady stream of skilled workers to help man America's defenses.

In addition to training skilled workers, industry is breaking down complicated jobs so that unskilled men and women can be used on them. And through industrial health programs it is protecting the health of employees, so that absences from work are reduced to a minimum. There are many ways of speeding up the job that we must do, and industry is using them to the fullest extent.

There are many kinds of patriotism, many ways of showing your love for America. The battlefronts are far away across the oceans, yet right here at home all of us can be soldiers and can behave like soldiers, with courage and discipline. In the present crisis that's the least that we can do.

The U.S. Senate turned its attention to one of the most grievous bottlenecks in the whole rearmament set-up, the bottleneck checking the flow of defense contracts to the nation's small manufacturers. It would be the gravest misfortune if, in the present crisis, available machines in thousands of small firms were left to rust in idleness while their owners face bankruptcy. Yet, not a few reports declare Washington's military officialdom, charged with actual awarding of contracts, has been far from alert in putting the facilities of small plants to use. The fact remains that, to date, the small manufacturer, businessman and contractor, has received his most energetic support from the agencies of private enterprise. The next steps remain with Washington officialdom.

Facing rigid rationing of tires, and of double excise taxes on all replacement parts. Through the depression years, motorists and trucker have faithfully provided states with more than a third of their total tax revenue. Most observers agree there would be some justice to machine owners' tax bill—in the last twenty years the total has exceeded twenty-one billion dollars—if they were more.

You've heard a lot about the American Way. Here, we believe, is how the American Way looks in action. When black-outs in the Los Angeles area resulted in a stoppage of night shift activity in defense plants, workers of the North American Aviation Co. in Inglewood, Calif., requested permission of the management to work over-time to make up the hours lost due to the black-outs—and to do so without pay. Class In Flower Arrangement Will Hold An Exhibition Here

Beginning with a class of 16, Lorena Van Buren Hull, will open a course in flower arrangement at the Congregational Church Tuesday, January 20, from 9 to 11 a.m. The classes will continue for the following five Tuesdays, closing February 24, when date of an exhibition will be announced.

Mrs. Hull, a prominent resident who is widely known here and in other Southern California communities, studied modern arranging with Miss Clare Cronewett of Gold Hill, and Japanese technique with Miss Akemi Togo. She has been active in flower show judging following completion of a judging course at the Woman's University Club in Los Angeles, has credentials from California Garden Clubs Inc., and is known as a lecturer on all types of flower arrangements.

The course is being given under the auspices of the Woman's Society of the Congregational Church, and may be the first in a series. The first lesson will be a round arrangement with a low bowl. Students are asked to bring bowls, holders and appropriate flowers. Further information is available from Mrs. B. L. Hinkey, ways and means chairman of the society, or from Mrs. Hull.

If the motives of human affection are right, the affections are enduring and achieving. —Mary Baker Eddy.

Babcock's Advice To Retailers

In his annual forecast of business conditions in the U.S. Roger W. Babson had a pertinent message for retail dealers of all kinds. Discussing prospects for 1942, the great economist warned that it becomes more than ever necessary to advertise if tradesmen expect a good year. On this subject he said: "When I think of the vast proportion of available spending money which will be siphoned off by the government at its source for the purchase of Defense Bonds and for the payment of all kinds of taxes, I wonder how much will be kept for retail trade. Hence, I feel justified in my annual forecast in recommending to retailers that they must increase their advertising appropriations if they expect good business in 1942."

What They Say ---

Rear Admiral Harry E. Yarnell—"The Japanese Navy is very good. It is well trained and is used to operating in its own stormy waters. The entire situation depends on command of the air."

Miss Jennie Lee, British M.P. on U.S. tour—"Your American people and ours are much alike. We are first class in a crisis. The big difficulty is in gearing us up. Both nations are doing a great job now."

Mrs. Stanhope Nixon, Calif. chairman, American Women's Voluntary Service—"For every patriotic woman, first must come training. And after training must come real, hard service. And last, she can pray, for there is a spiritual quality to service."

Admiral J. W. Greenslade, commandant 12th Naval District, addressing workers at Richmond shipbuilding plant—"We have been informed that the Japanese, in starting this war, banked heavily on disunity between American labor and industry. I trust that the loyalty of the vast majority will be a final answer to that idea."

FIRE FLAMES

By One of the Boys

And now since the firemen have taken to sleeping four at a time (at night) in the firemen's "quarters," we find that a number of our men require special beds. Not to mention "Shorty" Steinberger, there is Harry Lange, Jim Heasley (the younger), Harold Spears, Steve Petzel and a few others, none under 6 feet tall, that always have trouble straightening out in a dog house.

This arrangement provides the city with the best fire protection that we have ever had and as the city continues to grow, the firemen notice much difference with many more fire calls than just a few short months ago. If the men continue to volunteer their services in this manner, we could not ask for much better. However, this asks that the fellows sacrifice one night of their own time each week. Forming the groups for a night each week, Joe Swanson looked over the list and deserves much credit for supplying himself with good partners for a pinocchle game. In his group are Louie Karger, Marion Hays and Jimmy Heasley. What happens in the early hours of the evening before they retire can be very plainly visualized.

Even tho' we omit the many palm tree fire calls, there have been more calls of late than we like. Not that we do not like to fight fire. All get a kick out of that. It is that few fire calls reputation that we have been holding. Many of the new houses that are being built are being built by folks who are not acquainted with our fire ordinances and our fire hazards. They must be informed.

A recent call to the mountain brush area was caused by young boys lighting matches. Children should be taught early of the danger of carrying matches. Had this fire occurred in the dry season, the boys would have been lucky to escape without being burned and we would be very lucky if we wouldn't be fighting fire there today. In the thickest of the brush at a point where the fire would have carried into the mountains, only the recent rain prevented a costly and serious fire. The moral of this is—Keep matches away from children.

Easterners Told True Situation In The Southland

Southern California this week assured Eastern and Midwestern travel and newspaper contacts that business and individual life here is normal and that the All-Winter Sun Festival is continuing as originally planned.

The All-Year Club, Southern California's community tourist promotion organization, gave travel and resort page editors, transportation company executives, travel bureaus and automobile clubs a frank description of conditions in the Southland in response to queries asking how Southern California is reacting to the Far Eastern hostilities.

Don Thomas, managing director of the All-Year Club, said it was the purpose of the message to convey the true facts so that the All-Year Club could continue to merit the public confidence. He told the travel interests:

"Two weeks ago Southern California had a general blackout, followed by an army announcement there would be no more unless danger was near. There have been no more. The army has closed no important roads, and you can tell all who ask you that recreation and business continue 'as usual'."

Carolina Editor Finds Southern California Safe

"Let's be fair to California — her vital tourist trade has been injured by untrue reports arising from the current war," was urged by A. F. Funderburk, Jr., editor of The South Carolina Magazine, in an interview in The State, Columbia, S.C., daily newspaper of December 30, 1941. Copy of the South Carolina paper has just been received by the Los Angeles County Chamber of Commerce.

The Columbia paper remarks that Mr. Funderburk, just back from a trip to Southern California said: "California has been calm since the war started. There is no reason why those planning to visit there should not go and enjoy themselves as in the past."

Long Time Resident Here Passes Away

Mrs. Matilda Forsell, long time resident of this city, passed away at her home, 85 East Sierra Madre Blvd., yesterday following a long illness. Arrangements which are in charge of Grant Chapel were incomplete last night.

Red Cross Sweaters For Army Hospital

Sweaters from the Sierra Madre Red Cross went this week to Davis Monahan Field at Tucson, Ariz., where they will be given to hospitalized soldiers. Three layettes made for the local chapter were sent to Camp Hahn for wives of soldiers stationed there. The current quota now going into production calls for six sleeveless sweaters and 10 stump box, for which yarn is now available.

City Too Complacent Of Grave Danger Says Air Chief

change in our war thinking is to realize that the civilian population is today a military objective. There are no open cities.

"We in Sierra Madre are very smug and complacent about our safety. We feel much like the people in Hawaii felt just one short month ago. I have been told so many times that we have no factories. I point out in reply that we have many factory workers and in this war, it is just as much a victory for the enemy to destroy civilian morale, to create panic, as to bomb factories. We are in the war zone, the Army terms this area the 'theatre of war'."

"We should realize that we will probably be bombed, and we should know what to do about it, because your war thinking must also accomplish this change. You must realize that when your house is set on fire by an incendiary bomb during an air raid, you can't call the fire department. You have to control your own fires."

"For the purpose of training you a civil protection organization has been set up by the Government under the direction of the Civil Defense Division. This consists of six heads of departments: police, fire, air raid wardens, medical, public work and utilities. By direct wire, word is sent from the detector station through proper channels to each community such as ours, and these men are being trained to handle the situation."

"As for the 'die-hards,' the ones who know it can't happen here, I would like to leave this thought. Our Navy has captured a Japanese submarine, having a cruising range of 17,000 miles, equipped with a portable winch and plane with rubber pontoon and detachable wings. This plane can be launched from the submarine, make a trip over this area, drop a load of bombs, go back to the submarine with which is can maintain radio control, drop down to the bottom of the ocean and what are we going to do about it?"

"Gentlemen, it can happen here and it would be well worth the effort. The Japs thought it was well worth the effort to bomb the open city of Manila, which had no factories and no defense plant workers. Let's be intelligent and at least prepare for any emergency that might arise."

Rangers Advice To Mountain Drivers

All motorists going into the mountains for weekend holidays are advised by Pat Harlan, Santa Anita District Ranger, to exercise every driving precaution, as many of the highways are ice covered, particularly on north slopes where moisture from melting snow quickly freezes.

"Drive slowly and brake in short intervals, as showing your brake all the way down will prove dangerous," states Harlan. Visitors who park in the mountains for any length of time should carry buckets and drain their radiators, as a precaution against possible freezing, according to Harlan, who further places a definite taboo on snowballing cars which is against the state law.

GOOD NEIGHBORS—PRICES TO FIT YOUR BUSINESS

As It Appears
To me

This is a day when I would like to leave my desk and the business section, and go into the far corners of our village to talk to people who are rarely seen about town. Not just because I need to freshen my perspective, but because I miss seeing many villagers whose interests are somewhat disassociated from those of the downtowners.

An entire afternoon with Mrs. Sheriff, the pastor's wife, wouldn't be enough; then there are stacks of old cartoons still waiting for me at Henry Hawhurst's studio! gardens to talk about with Mrs. Solomon, whose personality has more sparkling surprises than anyone I have known in a long time. At Mrs. R. A. Pratt's I would sit by a great window looking out across the wide stretches of the San Gabriel valley and reconstruct many of the events in early California history. I would arrive at the Waverly Pratt's just at milking time, and enjoy a tin (it simply must be tin) cup of warm milk. Jack McCarthy has promised that I may curl up in a chair and say absolutely nothing if I feel like silence; and maybe if I should stop by Clement May's he would read Dickens for a while. At the Harold Carew's I would listen to tales of great and simple people, woven into the pattern of history in a way which is distinctly Harold Carew's own. This in itself is a great experience. As it is I shall continue to work at my desk, wave to everyone who goes by, speculate realistically on the state of the world and life in general, while that part of my mind which is purely visionary keeps me going.

War brings out such surprising characteristics in people that some unexpected thought lurks in the mind of almost everyone you meet. Along in the early fall raising vegetables would have been totally out of the orbit of most of us. Now there is a general discussion about growing carrots, beets and other winter vegetables, and no doubt spring will find many of us planting beans and lettuce, setting out strawberries, and having a great time, even though some new aches will no doubt be acquired.

Growing vegetables isn't all work. It is also lots of fun. You always have something extra to share with a neighbor, which in itself is a fine thing, but best of all you have the knowledge that you are not entirely dependent on someone else for your food. Also many deep and apparently terrible problems can be successfully worked out while you dig in the earth. Some Sierra Madreans are already busy with vegetables, having lots of success and really enjoying the work. Just one of the small benefits which come about through a colossal tragedy to mankind. The working of the universe are indeed strange.—Margaret Ehasen.

Unique Artist Will Address Arts Guild
Friday Evening

A new resident in Sierra Madre, and one of the unique artists in the field of glass blowing, Robert E. Logan, will be guest speaker at the monthly meeting of the Arts Guild, Friday evening.

Mr. Logan will exhibit some of his work, and talk on the technical angles of his profession. Unable to classify his type of work, Mr. Logan states "I work as a 'bender' when I do neon work; I do 'technical blowing' when I make laboratory equipment, but what I am when I make other things I don't know." It is these "other things" which have gained for Mr. Logan the reputation of having no other equal in his field. He will begin his talk promptly at 8 o'clock.

Rounding out the program of the evening Miss Bette Kelley, young soprano, and pupil of Mrs. Grace McCarty, will sing a group of songs. These will include "Open Thy Blue Eyes," Massenet; "Maid of Cadiz," Delibes, and Musetta's Waltz Song from La Boheme. Miss Kelley will be accompanied by Willard Ganther, pianist of the Arts Guild Orchestra.
